ARNY BAILEY: Lead Vocals (Tommy Shaw), Acoustic & Electric Guitars, Keyboards

ARNY cut his vocal chops on everything from early country to Led Zeppelin. His seemingly limitless vocal range and multi-instrumentalist abilities have allowed him to play when and where he'd like. ARNY used his vocal and guitar skills with The Grand Delusion (Styx Tribute) and Highway Run (Journey Tribute) over the last few years. He was the leader of local favorites "About Face" and lead singer for "The Rockefellers". ARNY really nails the vocal sound of Styx's Tommy Shaw and has earned the nickname "The Shaw of Tommy" by his local fan base. You can hear ARNY on great Styx songs like "Renegade", "Fooling Yourself", and "Too Much Time On My Hands".

BRYAN WOOLLEY: Lead Vocals (Dennis DeYoung), Bass

BRYAN has been a fixture in Seattle bands for most of his life and has for the past 12 years been the lead singer and front man of the popular Casino/Corporate/Club/Festival band "The Machine". Taking the vocal part of Dennis DeYoung was a natural for BRYAN as his 4-octave range and operatic vocal style capture the essence of DeYoung's signature voice that has been heard on such great Styx classics as "Lady", "Come Sail Away", and "Babe". Along with vocalist ARNY BAILEY, BRYAN fronts Borrowed Time: The Music of Styx and between he and ARNY, they keep things fun for the band and audience while hitting dead-on performance of Styx's main vocalists.

MICHAEL HARDS: Lead Vocals ("JY" James Young), Electric & Acoustic Guitars, Mandolin

MICHAEL is a multi-instrumentalist and vocalist that has been playing the Seattle circuit for many years. He spent 14 years with the Top 40 band Chain Reaction and is currently in the band Idol Eyez playing and arranging. He studied music at Cornish College of the Arts and Edmonds Community College, keeping his focus on music theory and electronic music production. Styx has always been one of his favorite bands, loving the progressive rock feel and the great songwriting. His channeling of "JY's" growling guitar and vocal is a perfect fit for this already strong line up.
